

Pattern floors have long been a hallmark of exceptional architectural design worldwide, with their timeless appeal standing the test of time. Today, they are experiencing a resurgence in popularity, with top architects and designers across the United States increasingly specifying pattern floors in their projects.

Our 4 Square Collection features seven initial patterns, each meticulously crafted from the highest quality hardwoods. These floors are precision-machined from 5/8" engineered planks with a 4mm wear layer. The lamellas, made from premium hardwoods sourced and processed in our plant in the Blue Ridge Mountains of North Carolina, are adhered to a high-quality Baltic Birch substrate. Our team of skilled professionals will then craft these planks into the custom pattern of your choice.
